

To put the chill on the idea of GI Joes marrying foreign women, film starlet Mary Anderson has an idea of her own. She urges a glamor girl invasion of Europe, calls it "Operation Lohengrin," and has offered to lead the landing party if tactics require a supreme commander.

Opinions of Correspondents Differ On Meyer Reprieve

LONDON (CP) — Four Canadian war correspondents who covered all or part of the war crimes trial of Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer generally agreed today that he had a fair trial, but divided on whether his sentence to death—later commuted to life imprisonment—was justified on the basis of the evidence.

Meyer, a German regimental and divisional commander, was found guilty of responsibility for the shooting of 18 Canadian prisoners of war in June, 1944. He was found innocent on several other charges but was sentenced to death by shooting by a Canadian military court meeting at Aurich, Germany.

Upon review of the case, Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, who convened the court, commuted Meyer's sentence to life imprisonment in Canada. Meyer now is in a British prison awaiting transportation to the Dominion.

Two war correspondents for the Canadian Press, Ross Munro and William Boss, covered the entire trial. Munro said the death sentence was "unjustified" on the evidence, while Boss said it was "excessive."

PENALTY WARRANTED

Frank Swanson, representing the Southam Press, said he thought the death penalty was warranted.

Michael E. Salzer of the Toronto Star, while saying he did not feel in a position to express an opinion, added he considered no sentence severe enough "for people like Meyer who had been proved co-responsible for the perpetration of war crimes of this kind."

Swanson and Salzer left Aurich before the defence completed its case.

All four correspondents were asked two questions:

1. Did Meyer get a fair trial?
2. Was the death penalty justified on the basis of the evidence?

Their replies were:

Munro: "I think Meyer received a fair trial, although I feel the prosecution was allowed to introduce considerable atrocity evidence against the S.S. which did not concern Meyer directly and which may have influenced the trial. I do not think the death penalty was justified on the basis of the evidence. There have been too many loose ends and contradictions for anything more than life imprisonment."

Boss: "Had the court found Meyer guilty on all five charges, I might have considered the death sentence mandatory. However two considerations—first that no evidence was produced directly linking Meyer with atrocities; and second, that he actually was found not guilty on charges of direct personal responsibility—force me to the conclusion that the death sentence was excessive. To make a field commander responsible with his life for every act of troops under his command seemed to me to be establishing a preposterous precedent."

IMPECCABLY FAIR

Salzer: "I consider the trial was an object lesson for impeccable fairness and justice, a view corroborated not only by Canadian military personnel attending the trial but also by a number of German visitors whom I interviewed in the courtroom."

"I consider Meyer, from all evidence produced, guilty of having incited the killings, but I do not feel in a position to express an opinion on the sentence involved over and beyond the decision of the court."

"I do not consider any sentence severe enough to punish people like Meyer who have been proved responsible for the perpetration of war crimes of this kind."

Swanson: "Meyer certainly had a fair trial and said so himself. On the basis of the evidence produced, I would say the death penalty was warranted."

"On the three charges on which he was convicted there was no question of doubt in the evidence. The fact that Meyer did not actually use the gun himself is in my opinion a side issue."

"The fact that he was the commander of a unit whose men carried out wholesale murders of prisoners should be sufficient reason for imposing the death penalty."

Ernie Paine, correspondent for the Canadian Army newspaper, Maple Leaf, who also covered the trial, was on the continent today and could not be reached for comment. The Maple Leaf, however, carried an editorial in its United Kingdom edition Thursday which said: "Many soldiers who have served in battle feel this last minute reprieve is fair and just."

The newspaper added that Meyer was a soldier—acted as a soldier—and has been dealt with as a soldier.

Kurt Meyer to be Number in 'Pen'

OTTAWA (CP) — Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer, whose sentence of death was commuted to life imprisonment in Canada, will become "just another number" when he enters a Canadian penitentiary, G. L. Sauvart, acting penitentiary superintendent, said today.

From Kingston—penitentiary where it is considered likely the former S.S. general will be imprisoned, came indications he could expect no special treatment. Assistant Warden Millard at the Kingston institution, which houses some 800 prisoners, commented:

"It won't matter to us that he was a German panzer division commander, and his reputation won't bother anybody around here. All our charges have reputations when they first arrive."

Today's Sports 3 International Fixtures Feature British Football

LONDON (CP)—England defeated Belgium 2-0 here today in an international soccer game attended by 85,000 spectators, including Paul Henri Spaak, President of the United Nations Assembly and Foreign Minister of Belgium.

Two international rugby games also were played, with Scotland defeating the New Zealand touring team 11-6 in Edinburgh and England beating Wales 25-13 in Cardiff.

A new feature was introduced in the England-Belgium soccer game when linesmen were provided with iridescent flags which glow in poor light. The flags had an early test as fog settled during the interval and the Canadian Women's Army Corps pipe band on the field could scarcely be seen.

In regular British soccer games, Charlton Athletic was upset 2-0 by West Ham United. Charlton Athletic still holds the leadership in League South, however.

Charlton showed a lack of shooting power and an uncertain defence. Aston Villa, holding second place in the League standings, also went down to defeat, losing 3-1 to Birmingham, the third-place holder.

Derby County, now fourth, beat Millwall 2-1.

In League North, the four teams tied for the leadership suffered varied fortunes. Chesterfield lost 1-0 to the third-place Manchester City squad. Sheffield United beat Middlesbrough 4-3 and Blackpool downed Leeds United 4-2. Everton whipped Blackburn Rovers 4-1.

The games left Everton, Sheffield United and Blackpool still tied on games won for the lead while Chesterfield dropped to second place.

In Third Division games, Stockport County led in the northwest section after beating Barrow 5 to 2. Carlisle United, leader in the northeast section, defeated York City 3 to 1. South End United downed Northampton 1 to 0 to move into a tie with Mansfield Town for the leadership of the south-north play. Bristol Rovers, winners by 2-1 to 0 score over Bristol City, lead the south-south games.

In the Scottish League's Division "A," Glasgow Rangers improved their position as the leading team by defeating Queen's Park 2 to 1. Aberdeen, in second place, played to a scoreless 0 to 0 draw with Clyde. Celtic, in third, beat St. Mirren 2 to 1.

In Scottish Division "B," Dundee held the lead after a 3 to 1 win over Dunfermline Athletic while East Fife, winner over Dundee United 2 to 0, and Ayr

United, which beat Arbroath 4 to 2, are sharing second place.

Hawaiian Defenders Planned Exercises To Meet Jap Blow

ADMIRAL H. E. KIMMEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel said today that Hawaiian defenders held "exercises designed to meet any eventuality" right up to the time of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Resuming his testimony before the joint investigating committee, Kimmel, 1941 commander of the Pacific Fleet, deferred with Rep. Murphy (Dem., Pa.) as to whether intercepted Japanese messages showed the Russian port of Vladivostok was better prepared against an attack that year.

Murphy read into the record a secret Japanese message of July 5, 1941, from Vladivostok. This said the Russians were conducting exercises to take care of "any eventuality."

Kimmel contended this was no different from the situation in Hawaii.

"Certainly in Hawaii, we had had exercises designed to meet any eventuality," he said, adding that these continued to the moment of the Dec. 7, 1941, attack.

He said he could not recall all details.

Murphy commented that the Hawaiian defenders were not doing a lot of things, including air raid drills and reconnaissance that might have avoided being surprised.

The congressman also read into the record various messages showing Japanese interest in the Panama Canal and its defenses.

But Kimmel insisted that he believed that in no place did the Japanese show, in their intercepted messages, the same interest they did in Pearl Harbor. He contends that Washington officials were to blame in not letting him know of this detailed interest.

Russian Suicides At Dachau Deserters

FRANKFURT (AP) — Ten Russians of a group being forcibly repatriated to the Soviet Union for wartime crimes against their homeland committed suicide and 21 others injured themselves in a melee with United States forces at Dachau today.

U.S. Army headquarters announced the incident. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, commander-in-chief of U.S. forces in the European Theatre, said the Russians involved were Soviet citizens proved to have been deserters from the Soviet armed forces, to have served in German uniforms or to have "voluntarily rendered aid and comfort to the enemy of the Soviet Union."

Under the Yalta agreement, force is used in some cases against Russians in these categories, McNarney said, but not against ordinary Russians who do not wish to return.

New Armament Race Only Soviet Fear; Has Uranium Mines

EDMONTON (CP)—Russian scientists, eager to make use of atomic energy for purposes of industrial development, "undoubtedly" are working on secrets involved in the mass production of this new power, Raymond Arthur Davies, newspaperman and author, said in an interview today.

Here to address a meeting Monday sponsored by the Canadian Soviet Friendship Council, Mr. Davies said the only fear Russians have concerning the atomic bomb is that it might start another armaments race.

"The atomic bomb is no secret. The secret is in the mass method of manufacturing it," Russia possesses uranium in abundance.

Canada stands high in Russia's estimation and the Soviet wants to do business with the Dominion.

Mr. Davies estimated Russia offered an annual market of $200,000,000 for Canadian goods, and compared this with the $70,000,000 valuation of Canada's export and import trade with Russia in the 40 years before 1940.

5,000 Vets Jobless May Bring Witness

VANCOUVER (CP) — Horace Keetch, manager of National Employment Service, in his annual report said today about 5,000 veterans in Vancouver are seeking jobs. The report shows 644,456 persons went through National Selective Service offices in 1945 with 86,851 men and 28,364 women placed in jobs.

"Nice Boy" Objects

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A 41-year-old bachelor protested in court Friday to being the object of a "46-year-old spinster's affections." Pierson L. Cohn preferred a malicious mischief charge against Esther Ziehm, charging she broke a window in his car to attract his attention. Asked by the judge why she was "bothering" Cohn, Miss Ziehm replied: "Because he's a nice boy."

The judge suspended sentence on condition she make restitution for the window.

Victory Parade in New York

Paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division march through the Washington Square Arch in New York's victory parade, greatest since 1919. Famous division, which four times parachuted into enemy territory to spearhead invasions in European theatre, was cheered by 4,000,000 spectators as it marched in Manhattan.

MacWalker Bequest Thought to be Last Of Series of Hoaxes

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—The late Robert W. J. Noble, who is believed to be responsible for the Ranji MacWalker bequest hoax in which millions of dollars were supposed to be left to charities and old-time western railroad men, was revealed today to have hit the headlines many times during his career.

The 76-year-old pensioner, who will be buried here this week, was disclosed by reliable sources today to have been the inventor of bizarre tales through the years.

In many letters which he wrote to newspapers he claimed he had fought in five major wars, been shipwrecked five times, struck gold in the Klondike, offered to take the place of a condemned woman on the scaffold, worked as a clerk for R. B. Bennett and traveled around the world annually.

In 1932 he read an account of the raising of the liner, Waratah, of the African coast. The ship had disappeared 21 years before, with all hands.

In a letter to Lloyds of London Noble announced "I was the sole survivor and gave an account of the sinking and of his subsequent trek through African jungles. The story was sent across the continent."

He told how he had saved a child from drowning only to have it "struck dead" by a black snake. A South African resident at the time listed discrepancies in the yarn including complete absence of black snakes in Africa.

A year later Noble read of an American army nurse, Miss Frieda Weiz, being tried for murder of her wealthy employer in Santa Cruz, Calif. Noble wrote the nurse that she had twice saved his life and he was willing to repay by taking her place if she was convicted.

In the Ranji MacWalker "bequest" names of the "beneficiaries" were said by a reliable source here to have been obtained by Noble under some pretext from Canadian Pacific Railway headquarters in Montreal and Vancouver. The names were those of the "real" Ranji MacWalker's "co-workers" on the Laggan section of the railway at the turn of the century.

Italians Purchase U.S. War Surplus

ROME (AP) — The United States army has sold $60,000,000 worth of surplus materials to the Italian government, the office of the Foreign Liquidation Commissioner announced today. An official said the supplies included motor vehicles, camp facilities, and other equipment. The terms require Italy to pay annually in United States dollars, beginning Jan. 1, 1951, at a rate equal to 3% per cent of the purchase price, plus interest at 2% per cent, beginning Jan. 1, 1947.

5-Day Work Week On Vancouver Sun

VANCOUVER (CP) — A five-day, 40-hour week is included in the new agreement just signed by the Vancouver Sun and the Vancouver Newspaper Guild, Local No. 1, representing the newspaper's non-mechanical staff.

Subject to approval of the Regional War Labor Board, the agreement is expected to go into effect by Mar. 1, Donald Cromie, publisher of the Sun, said today.

The Vancouver Sun in a newspaper story said it is the first newspaper west of Toronto to institute a five-day week. It is the first in Canada to make such a week part of an agreement with a newspaper union.

Printers' Spokesmen Talk With Minister

OTTAWA (CP) — Harry Finch, international representative of the International Typographical Union (A.F.L.), and Pat Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, today conferred with Labor Minister Mitchell on the work stoppage involving printers at two Winnipeg newspapers, the Free Press and the Tribune.

At the conclusion of the conference, which lasted more than an hour, Mr. Finch said:

"The whole situation was surveyed and we are satisfied some good will come out of the meeting."

He declined to disclose the nature of the discussions. Mr. Mitchell had no comment.

The meeting was arranged following telephone conversations between Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, and Woodruff Randolph of Indianapolis, Ind., international president of the union. Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor, and M. M. MacLean, director of the department's industrial relations branch, also attended the meeting.

Mr. Finch said he expected to remain in Ottawa for a few days, but there was no indication further meetings between the union and government representatives were planned.

Night Office Opening Opposed by Maitland

Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C., acting Premier in the absence of Premier Hart, is opposed to the suggestion of the United Steelworkers' subdistrict council of Vancouver that provincial government offices open one night each week for the convenience of day workers.

Mr. Maitland described the suggestion as not practical. He said many extra workers were hired to aid in the distribution of auto licenses, which came under his jurisdiction. He saw no great hardship because licenses were not offered for sale during the evening.

The Vancouver representation suggested government employees be given time off in compensation for their night work.

Insects, Weather, Pests, Labor Lack Cause Spud Shortage

British Columbia's current potato shortage, which has been somewhat relieved by imports from the United States and sale of Grade 3 potatoes, is a result of a combination of insects, adverse weather, labor shortages and unavailability of pest control machinery.

Though seed is again short in supply, according to Earl McKay, manager of the B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, sufficient seed potatoes will be available for the increased 1946 crop. The B.C. government has urged potato growers to secure delivery of seed immediately and to increase the potato acreage of the province by 1,000 acres.

Mr. McKay has stressed the problem of forecasting conditions. He recalled that in 1943, though production was less than last year, a serious surplus developed, which was alleviated only by a shortage in eastern Canada.

To forecast requirements and to encourage seeding of the exact number of acres to give a desired yield under growing conditions which are impossible to anticipate are problems of no mean proportion," he said.

Potato production in the area controlled by the board was down by 4,000 tons in 1945 from 1944, although the board had recommended an increased acreage in 1945, and had arranged for eastern sources of seed.

Mr. McKay said 3,000 tons of early potatoes had been shipped to prairie markets late last summer but these potatoes could not have been stored.

CONSUMPTION INCREASES

Potato consumption has increased by 65,000 new residents in the lower mainland, Mr. McKay estimates, and tonnages going to deepsea ships has also increased.

A further loss resulted from the transfer of Pemberton-Cariboo district to jurisdiction of the interior board, but Mr. McKay noted that production in that district last year was only 60 per cent of 1944.

In the interior adverse growing conditions and converting acreage to vegetables for dehydration under government war contracts were blamed for the lack of potatoes there.

In the Chilliwack-Sumas area the ravages of the potato flea beetles caused considerable loss.

Five Killed in Traffic Mishaps

Police Chief J. A. McLellan reported today traffic accidents involving automobiles totaled 558 in 1945, compared with 427 for the previous year. In these accidents 186 persons were injured and five killed.

Of the total number of accidents reported, 389 were automobiles colliding with automobiles; 68 were pedestrians struck by automobiles, and 52 were cyclists; the remainder were automobiles striking other objects.

"I have given these figures," said the chief, "because I think they will convey to the public some idea of the traffic problem. The daily reporting of an accident may not always impress the reader, but when he sees the total for the year he is able to get a better idea of the loss and suffering it represents."

The chief urged everyone using the streets to proceed with the utmost care and common sense.

Constable Arthur Newsome who has been on the police force for a month and a half, was with the 5th Field Artillery of the Canadian Army, and found revolver shooting "just a little bit different" from firing on the front line. He is pictured being instructed by Constable Charles Webb, ace pistol shot of the local police who has held the high aggregate in departmental revolver contests for the past five years.

Dispute In Australia Produces New Chief of Staff for Governor

CANBERRA (CP)—Brig Derek Schreiber, key figure in a dispute centring around his former valet has been replaced by Maj.-Gen. Charles Harvey Miller as chief of staff to the Duke of Gloucester, Governor-General of Australia. It was announced Friday night.

Brig Schreiber and his wife, the former Viscountess Clive, shortly will return to Britain, the announcement added. A few hours earlier the Australian government had started action to learn the truth about the dismissal by a Canberra hotel of Ernest C. Fields, the former valet.

It was reported during the day that the Duke of Gloucester, vacationing in the southern island state of Tasmania, has been informed by telephone of the situation.

Mr. Fields, a 35-year-old discharged veteran of Dunkerque, quit the employ of Brig. Schreiber recently and took a job, along with his wife, in a hotel.

After his dismissal, Mr. Fields charged that the British staff officer had brought pressure to bear on the hotel, and also on a brewery with an interest in the hotel, which caused him to lose his job.

PRIME MINISTER ACTS

Prime Minister Chifley stepped into the dispute—confering both with Brig. Schreiber and with Sam Blumenthal, secretary of the Canberra Trades and Labor Council, the organization which this week called for a blacklist by union supporters of the brigadier's household.

Brig. Schreiber denied the allegations when he talked to Mr. Chifley, but the labor council decided to maintain its ban on the officer's household despite the Prime Minister's promise of an immediate investigation.

It was not known immediately whether the replacement of Brig. Schreiber would have any effect on the ban.

The Trades and Labor Council also threatened a possible boycott of three of Canberra's four hotels and the ban might extend to employees of a number of New South Wales hotels. If carried out, the boycott would seri-

Court, Rules Set Up for Trials Of War Criminals In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. MacArthur today set up international machinery for the trials of Hideki Tojo, his wartime cabinet and his militarists, charged with "crimes against peace and crimes against humanity."

The Allied commander announced a charter giving detailed procedures for insuring "fair trials for the accused."

Outstanding points of procedure listed include:

1. A majority of the members of the international tribunal present shall be sufficient to convict and impose the death sentence—subject to review by Gen. MacArthur.
2. The five-to-nine-man tribunal "will not be bound by technical rules of evidence," and even documents without proof of signature may be accepted.
3. A plea that he acted under orders shall not of itself be sufficient to free a defendant.

FIRST TRIAL IN TOKYO

The charter provides that the first trial shall be held in Tokyo and has been scheduled tentatively for early March.

"A sentence will be carried out in accordance with the order of the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, who may at any time reduce or otherwise alter the sentence," except that

Train Crews Eat Caribou Meat Along Hudson Bay Railway

WINNIPEG (CP)—It may not have appeared in French on the better restaurant menus yet, but caribou is a la culvert in being served frequently in northern Manitoba homes these days. It's a dish fit to set before a king, say the gourmants, and it costs the housewives neither money—nor—what's more important—ration coupons.

The caribou himself is not entirely blameless for this sudden assumption of high priority rights in the kitchen. It all results, it appears from (A) his unfortunate fascination for railway

Winnipeg Printers Plan New Paper

WINNIPEG (CP)—Plans are under consideration for publication of a third daily newspaper in Winnipeg by former printers of the Free Press and the Tribune, dismissed Jan. 3 after being on a work stoppage since Nov. 8, it was announced here.

An advertisement in the Winnipeg News, a 12-page tri-weekly newspaper, published on behalf of the printers, carried a proposal to form, if support warrants, a limited company of shareholders, capitalized at $500,000, with 10,000 shares of $50 each, par value, for publication of a daily.

It said plant and equipment would absorb approximately $200,000 and $300,000 would be placed as reserve capital.

The advertisement said the paper would be politically independent and proposed to carry world and local news, and "a truthful and unbiased presentation of matters pertaining to labor groups."

The dispute with the Winnipeg publishers concerned arbitration proceedings.

2 Killed as Train Jumps Track, Crashes

MYERSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two persons, one a soldier en route to a discharge centre, were killed Friday night when a Mississippi-bound troop train jumped the tracks five miles west of here and collided with an eastbound freight train.

Twenty-two persons, including 17 of 191 other soldiers were injured when five cars of the troop train spilled against the freight, ripping up railroad ties and strewn wreckage along the tracks for a quarter of a mile.

Cause of the accident was not determined.

Physics Building at U.B.C. to Cost $700,000

VANCOUVER—Complete details of the new Physics Building, the United States and Europe in order to secure the very latest knowledge on this type of building.

Many features in the design of the new building were incorporated from ultra-modern physics laboratories in Sweden.

The building will be situated immediately east of the present Science Building and facing the approach road between the Arts and Science quadrangles. It will have a frontage of 270 feet with a depth of 144 feet and will consist of a basement and two floors.

The building has been designed to reduce to a minimum horizontal and vertical travel and afford students quick access to the three large lecture theatres providing a seating capacity for 272 students in the largest and 140 in the two smaller adjacent theatres. Each

INDUSTRIAL UNREST

OUR NEIGHBOR'S BATTLE ON THE industrial front took a turn for the worse yesterday when the president of the United States Steel Corporation refused Mr. Truman's proposal for a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour—one cent an hour less than the latest United Steel Workers' demand and three and one-half cents an hour more than the company's maximum offer. While the union had accepted the lower figure, the employers argued that this was tantamount to going the whole hog in the workers' favor—a concession which the steel concern's president has recently declared would require an increase of seven dollars a ton in the selling price to meet the additional cost of production.

Although this conflict between labor and management in the United States is essentially the business of our friends on the other side of the border, the people of Canada—and, indeed, of the economically interdependent world—are interested spectators of the struggle. This is predicated by the fact that any serious dislocation of reconstruction plans involving such a basic American industry as steel must, sooner or later, be attended by widespread repercussions. For apart from the circumstances of adding another 700,000 workers to the number of men already on strike, unless wiser counsels prevail before midnight tomorrow, the effects of this shut-down will be felt by every major industry in the United States. In the words of Mr. Truman, no state in the Union will escape its impact; all will suffer for a considerable period in consequence.

Nor would it appear that the President has used too heavy a brush in the sketching of this gloomy picture. What with 175,000 automobile workers idle for more than seven weeks, 200,000 electric appliance operatives on strike, the meat-packing industry closed to another 300,000 hands, the general industrial scene in the United States is patently charged with the most disturbing economic potentialities. And it has become crystal clear, of course, that conditions now confronting our neighbors are not solely the product of a dispute over the difference in a wage increase of a few cents an hour. To speculate on how far beyond this consideration the present discontent stretches is a mental exercise in which no outsider is entitled to indulge.

While the pessimists are seriously perturbed by the prospect of an idle industrial army reaching the proportions of some 4,000,000 in a month's time—unless conditions change materially for the better in the next few days—the optimists take comfort from the fact that the working population not at the moment involved in the labor-management battle is approximately 32,000,000, or the greatest number gainfully employed in the nation's history.

MEYER AND THE OTHER GANG

REGARDLESS OF THE EXPLANATIONS and the allusions to the fine points of judicial procedure, the vast majority of the peoples of the nations allied against Germany in war will fervently hope the reprieve of Maj. Gen. Kurt Meyer will not influence or prejudice the proceedings at Nuernberg. The man whose life Maj. Gen. Vokes, in his wisdom, has spared will probably wish many times before he is much older that he had faced the firing squad—for the pleading of no extenuating circumstance can possibly relieve him of his responsibility for willfully discharging the role assigned to him by his late and unlamented Fuehrer.

Nobody is disposed to confuse the issue concerning Nazis whose criminality is beyond question with the future treatment of the German people; there is hope in the case of the latter that the imposition of the death penalty on the Goerings and the Keitels and the Sauckels will have the necessary salutary effect on some of their strange concepts of national and international behaviour. Mr. Bevin expounded the lesson succinctly when he reminded the General Assembly of the United Nations on Thursday that:

"The aggressor can no longer look forward to a halo of glory or statues to his memory. Instead, he will be remembered by the scaffold and the hangman's rope."

It would be gratuitous speculation, especially in view of the ghastly character of the evidence already adduced, to suppose that the assorted legal minds which constitute the tribunal at Nuernberg will judge the more important criminals arraigned before that court on anything but the lengthy argument which the voluminous documents produced so devastatingly support. What most people fear, however, and the Kurt Meyer instance has emphasized the point, is that unless these trials are speeded up and the verdict pronounced, public interest will wane and the final judgment may not "make the punishment fit the crime." One does not require much mental effort to imagine the kind of howl that would go up to high heaven if this precious gang of thugs were to escape with prison sentences. How the Hitler Jungens would jump for joy and point to the "effete democracies" in that event!

WHITE CANE WEEK

THE WHITE CANE, THE SYMBOL which claims sympathetic understanding and kindness toward the sightless, is a familiar emblem in Victoria and other parts of the world. It commands, in all decent people, courtesy and assistance for those who hold it and are at times in need of outside help.

Owing to developments of recent years, high speeds and congestion, it has become imperative that the white cane receive full recognition from all citizens who enjoy the blessings of sight. None but the most thoughtless can fail to heed the mute appeal of the identifying stick. Yet it has been considered advisable by the Inter-Provincial Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind to emphasize the significance of the white cane during a special week starting tomorrow. The observance of that week, in addition to underscoring the physical guidance which those who can see can give those who do not, will draw attention again to many little considerations which can be extended to the blind to bring more light to lives lived in literal darkness. It is an invitation to those enjoying sight to share that precious sense with those denied it.

REWARD FOR HONEST WORK

THERE IS SOMETHING AS HONEST AS the ground British Columbia farmers till in the statement attached to the new brochure "Some Facts About British Columbia" recently prepared under the direction of Minister of Agriculture Frank Putnam. It says, in part: "There is no country which offers more inducements to men of energy and industry than British Columbia."

In other words, this province provides adequate rewards to the young man who is ready to take off his coat and apply his own enterprise and strength to the job of making for himself and his family a decent livelihood on the land. He cannot, of course, go into the job blindfold. He must pick his site and plan his operations. Once he has used average intelligence in that preparation, he will find a fruitful field for the application of enterprise and vision.

The diversified character of farming affords him choice in his selection of activities. He may devote his time to those specific crops or herds to which he is naturally inclined. He may not grow phenomenally rich, but he has the satisfaction of production and living conditions which should be conducive to health. To quote the brochure, "To the practical farmer, horticulturist and dairyman, this province offers a comfortable living and ultimate independence." Those are goals which will appeal to many of the men who have come out of the forces and those who are still to be released.

STILL GOING STRONG

IT IS ALWAYS AN OCCASION FOR civic satisfaction when the Arion Club holds a concert. This week's performance marked the opening of its 54th anniversary year, an event made all the more noteworthy by the participation of Mr. Herbert Kent, one of its charter members. In more than half a century, during which it has contributed to the cultural life of the community, the club has established a record probably unexcelled in western Canada for sustained operation. Longevity is not, of course, the criterion by which it is judged. Standard of performance is its proper measuring stick.

It seems entirely fitting that it will appear again shortly to entertain patients at St. Mary's Priory, where another charter member, Mr. Godfrey Booth, is a resident. And apart from the pleasure its songs will bring to those who hear them, there will be opportunity then for Mr. Booth and Mr. Kent, as well as Mr. Frank Sehl, who joined a year after its inception, to recall old times.

CHALLENGE

WHEN SUNLIGHT MOVES WESTWARD in the afternoon, a chill settles on the grove beneath the rocky cliff that is the northeast wall of the hill. The vertical, cold stone is forbidding, a rampart defying ascent. It is possible to mount in easy grades from the sides to gain the peak. But from the front the rock rises almost sheer. That is the challenge which faces the boy, a climb that looks all but impossible.

His is the equipment of a wiry, light body, strong young fingers, readily flexing toes and the co-ordination of faculties that a young animal knows. He starts up the cliff, picking his way by the more prominent knobs of rock, the cracks and small ledges. As he climbs his handholds become less defined, his toes press with greater weight into their narrow niches his body flattens more closely to the stone. He inches up, trading a foothold for a handhold, an outcropping for a crack. The air below is cold and empty, the lip of the cliff rises high above. There is a quick moment of panic as moss on a ledge breaks away. Fear shoots through him icily, contracting his muscles. He steadies himself, works his way up. His hands find a purchase, his foot gropes for a hold. Slowly he climbs. He dare not look below. His arms are aching, his legs strained.

But there is exultation in him as he passes the last perpendicular face and struggles easily up the shelving brow to the summit. This is the way he chose to reach the top. This was the challenge he accepted and there has been sharp ecstasy in victory.

'To Whose Account?'

"Where there are a number of actors, who may have had different degrees and kinds of agency, though we may clearly see upon the whole that there has been mismanagement, yet it is easy, he impracticable to pronounce to whom account the evil which may have been incurred is truly chargeable."—The Federalist Essays by Alexander Hamilton, James Madison and John Jay.

THE B.C. Provincial Council of the Anglican Young People's Association, goes on record as "being of opinion that the publication and sale in Canada . . . of 'crime' and 'love' literature, ought, in the interests of juvenile delinquency prevention, to be prohibited by law." It includes radio stations in such prohibition and thinks that the daily newspapers show "a lamentable want and sense of decency and responsibility in their way of publishing crime stories." It considers that the reading of this matter by "immature or undeveloped minds" is a contributing factor to the existing situation in respect of vice, crime and juvenile delinquency.

IT USED to be said that if a publisher desired to gain wide circulation for a book, the easiest method was to obtain the services of the late Anthony Comstock in banning it by bell, book and candle. At the end of the last century Miss Marie Corelli's "Sorrows of Satan" achieved a great reputation as the kind of book to be thrust under a "sofa cushion." If those who had been steeped in the early Victorian pools of wisdom happened to intrude on the privacy of the reader. Even Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," recounting the lurid adventures of the notorious Becky Sharpe, was regarded in some quarters with suspicion. On the stage "The Gay Lord Quex" and "Nell Gwynne" excited the utmost apprehension in those days when to be an actress was hardly respectable and to marry one was equivalent to going to the bow-wow. Conan Doyle's "Sherlock Holmes" raised the crop of modern "crime" stories. And, believe it or not, among the "drug store" cheap editions of today, Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice" and Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre" may be discovered.

DO GREAT art galleries contribute to youthful delinquency by showing some of the old masters' proclivities for nudity? Does the modern sun-bathing suit molded to the form, or the establishment of a definite place in Anne's or Bill's affections by the use of this or that tooth powder or scent induce 'crime.' Do not Matisse or Picasso contribute to general morbidity by their emphasis of the grotesque which they see in forms which the healthy person considers as due to some ailment of the liver?

Some sincere workers in the field of Social Welfare attribute all youthful delinquencies to the "Economic System." Extremists in this field claim their faith as religions and are as fanatical as any disciple of the Klu Klux Klan in their exercise of "moral justice." Each would suppress each other's vast output of literature as subversive and an encouragement of racial prejudice.

NEWSPAPERS ARE commonly accused of suppressing facts. It is as well that public opinion should be exercised in this respect, but it should be equally well informed. The late Irwin Cobb's "Exit Laughing" would contribute somewhat to the facts as well as to the entertainment of any critic of the newspapers.

The radio covers an enormous field of news, entertainment, advice, commentary, religion and education. The one fact about radio all such critics seem to forget, is that the air is one and indivisible and can be silenced merely by turning a key.

When Mr. Herbert Morrison, deputy to Prime Minister Attlee in the British House of Commons, was chairman of the London County Council he barred the Boy Scouts as a military organization. These were the days when Disarmament was the panacea to cure the disease of war. In the light of the aftermath it is obvious that the wrong objective was pursued and that the implications of the demand for disarmament were not recognized.

TO WHAT account is "the evil which may have been incurred truly chargeable?" And when that account is agreed upon how is prohibition to be enforced? Is the state to take control of "public opinion" by law, and instead of a diversity of matter, distribute the perversion of propaganda? Would it be too daring to wager that a vast percentage of what many could designate as pernicious literature, is purchased and digested by those who are of an age to be classified as due for "adult education" and not by those with immature and undeveloped minds?

On due consideration therefore it might be suggested to the B.C. Provincial Council of the Anglican Young People's Association that it has not fully analyzed the objective nor its implications. A book entitled "Easy Money Naughty Boy" could be written on the subject, or "Manners Maketh Man" cited as a slogan.

FOR IN THE final analysis character is the standard of life whether of the individual or nation, and character depends on temperament molded by home and school to recognize the obligations of citizenship. By a proper appreciation of the meaning of responsibility and an instinctive consideration for others all corruption is confounded.

Now if the real objective be agreed upon as that of the building of character, the experience of all civilization can be drawn upon to furnish the design. Prohibition of anything has never proved either practical or even spiritual. It has, but served to encourage secrecy and indulgence. A healthy body usually contributes to a healthy mind, but the chief contributing cause to delinquency is complete lack of respect for the law and a definite desire to escape from obligations or responsibilities.—L.V.M.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

MADRID (AP)—There is an old Spanish proverb that says a woman should be kept in the house with the door locked and one leg broken.

That's the way the boys here thought about it only as far back as 25 years ago. But you should see the so-called "weaker sex" now. The girls have cut loose from their duenna's apron strings and are competing with the men fairly well along the line.

This is indeed a different world from that which the mothers of the present generation knew. Stern custom kept the women and girls largely in their own homes.

REMOTE CONTROL

Marriages often were arranged by the parents of the couple as a matter of "convenience." If it was a love match, the courtship was conducted by remote control.

This long-distance love making might run along for two or three years, after which the young man would ask the girl's parents for her hand in marriage.

But having won his woman, the young man proceeded to lock her up in her new home, safe from the outside world. So the cycle of courtship and marriage went on from generation to generation.

Not so today. The young hopeful takes his girl partner to dinner and the theatre or a dance, even as you and I. And they don't have to put up with a chaperone any more. To be sure, the more conservative families still stick to some of the old forms. For instance, the current newspapers carry notices announcing that the parents of such and such young men have asked the parents of such and such young women for their hands in marriage. This notice is known as a "petition for hand" and is a formality which probably means that the young couple themselves have decided to get married.

Along with this new freedom has come the entrance of women into business and public life.

That's not the only way in which the new world has influenced Spain, for Madrid follows

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup in Your Kitchen?

Gives Quick Relief. And It's So Easy! No Cooking.

If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble—needs no cooking—and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it is splendid for coughs due to colds. Here's how it's done:—

Make a plain syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from your druggist. Put this into a 15 oz. bottle and fill up with your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply. It tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it.

And as for results, you'll find it very satisfying. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable agent for soothing throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Seattle Honeymoon For Ruth McGuire

The marriage of Ruth Elizabeth, second daughter of Mrs. George Turcotte, Alticane, Sask., and the late Mr. E. McGuire, Brandon, Man., to George Gibney of Victoria, was solemnized Wednesday evening at the Church of Our Lord. Rev. Donald L. Gordon officiated.

The bride was given away by Mr. A. V. King, and wore a turquoise blue wool suit with brown hat and accessories. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations. Mrs. Gordon Burk of Vancouver was the attendant, wearing a two-piece frock of brown silk corduroy with matching accessories. She carried bronze chrysanthemums. James Walker was the best man and ushering were Henry Schaeffer and Archie McBride.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the Goble Hall, Oak Bay, after which Mr. and Mrs. Gibney left for a honeymoon in Seattle. The bride donned a gold topcoat over her wedding ensemble. They will return to reside in the city.

Honeymoon in Rockies Dream of G.I. Joe

MONTREAL — From weary Paris to beautiful Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies is the honeymoon dream of one G.I. with the occupation forces in France. If proposed arrangements are carried out, Sgt. William L. Braverman and his bride will be there just as soon as he finishes his tour of duty and returns home to Ohio for discharge.

Recently Sgt. Braverman spent an evening in a U.S. 9th Army special services theatre and saw a James A. Fitzpatrick "Travel Talk" on Banff and Lake Louise. The sergeant decided then and there that Lake Louise was the place for his honeymoon and he wrote to Mr. Fitzpatrick inquiring about accommodation there.

The letter was sent on here to H. F. Mathews, General Manager of Canadian Pacific hotels, who has written to Sgt. Braverman explaining that Chateau Lake Louise will be glad to accommodate him and his bride.

Guide Council Plans Celebrations

At the meeting of the Greater Victoria Council of the Girl Guide Association, extensive plans were made for the first peacetime Girl Guide and Boy Scout Week, to be celebrated Feb. 17 to 23.

Mrs. M. Midgley, divisional commissioner, presided at the meeting, at which commissioners, guides and representatives of local associations, Boy Scouts, Parent-Teacher Associations and Salvation Army, were present.

Freeman King of the Boy Scouts, outlined the program for a Girl Guide-Boy Scout circus to be held in the Bay Street Armories, Feb. 20. Further celebrations for that week will feature special church services throughout the city; Brownie and Cub rallies; a Thinking Day broadcast from CJVI, and a Guide-Scouter dinner at the Empress Hotel.

The opening of a new Brownie pack was announced, meeting at the St. Barnabas' Church hall.

Celebrates 90th Birthday

MRS. M. GARNER

Born in Astwick, Bedfordshire, Eng., Jan. 19, 1856, Mrs. Garner came to Canada with her husband and settled near Saskatoon in the early days of prairie development. Twenty years ago, they came to Victoria to live and Mr. Garner died here in 1929.

Mrs. Garner has one daughter, Mrs. H. R. Earl, who lives in Saskatoon. A grandson was killed in World War II and a granddaughter was interned in France during the invasion.

"It's wonderful to live to be 90," Mrs. Garner tells her friends, "there have been ups and downs, of course. I've had my bad days and my good days... but I've got good friends. Of course, it's wonderful!"

Mrs. Garner now lives at the Aged Women's Home.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nimmo of Langford left today for Winnipeg to visit Mr. Nimmo's mother for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moffat of Blaine Lake, Sask., are spending the winter in Victoria. They are staying at Windsor Auto Court, Gorge Road.

Mrs. Faunt Jones of Detroit and Mrs. Mary Flack of Windsor, Ont., will arrive Sunday to visit their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gibson, York Place.

Mrs. E. D. LeLachur, Quadra Street, is spending several weeks visiting in Edmonton. Mrs. LeLachur was accompanied by her son, Sigmund Kenneth LeLachur, who recently returned from overseas.

Premier and Mrs. John Hart will leave Chandler, Ariz., where they have been vacationing for the past month, Sunday. Premier Hart will proceed to Ottawa and Mrs. Hart will return to her home in Victoria.

Mrs. Frank Pim, 3022 Wascana Street, returned from Winnipeg Friday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. M. M. Proctor of Woodlands, Man., who will spend the remainder of the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Pim.

Rear-Admiral V. G. Brodeur, C.B., R.C.N., and Mrs. Brodeur will be late afternoon hosts in honor of Maj. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, 1st Canadian Army commander and Mrs. Crerar, during their visit to Victoria the week of Jan. 28.

Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Nickells, 1857 Beach Drive, are entertaining informally Sunday afternoon and evening in honor of the 21st birthday of their elder son, Bob, who will spend the week-end in the city. He is majoring in chemistry at the University of British Columbia and will graduate next spring.

Among Victorians who will go to Vancouver to attend the Community Centre Institute at U.B.C. Monday and Tuesday will be Mrs. C. Buhlin and Mrs. J. Morrisgo, Saanich Recreation Centre; Mrs. L. R. ## Red and White Theme For Friday Wedding

A model gown of dull white French crepe, styled on Grecian lines and draped from the shoulder with heavy cording of self-material, was chosen by Betty May Francis for her marriage Friday evening in Metropolitan United Church to Fit-Lt. William James Kenton, R.A.F., formerly of Tonbridge, Eng.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Francis, 1979 Lansdowne Road, wore a fingertip veil of fine net caught to a headress of white ostrich tips and carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, freesias and lilies.

Twin gowns of red velvet, fashioned with fitted bodices and full skirts, were worn by the bride attendants, Mrs. J. Wicken and Mrs. H. Longworthy. Their headresses were of hand-made matching velvet flowers and they carried round bouquets of red and white carnations. Hugh Francis was groomsman and ushering were FO. J. Wicken, R.C.A.F., Fit-Lt. Peter Duke, R.A.F., George Ford and L. McDermott.

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse officiated at the ceremony and Edgar Holloway played the wedding music. While the bride party was in the vestry, F. W. Francis sang "All Joy Be Thine."

Many friends were welcomed to a reception in the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel, where Leo Grogan proposed the toast to the bride.

Leaving for a honeymoon up-island, the bride wore a grey suit, cranberry-red topcoat lined with broadtail fur, matching hat, black accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Fit-Lt. and Mrs. Kenton will make their home in Victoria.

Opening Date of B.C. Legislature Set for Feb. 21

First session of the 21st Legislature of British Columbia will convene here Feb. 21, it was announced concurrently today by Premier Hart's office and Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson. A proclamation will be issued by Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward next week. The calling of the Legislature will bring together for the first time 48 legislators elected at the polls in a provincial general election last Oct. 25 and a by-election in December in North Okanagan.

On the government side of the House will be 37 members. Liberal and Conservatives joined in a Coalition administration led by Premier John Hart and Attorney-General R. L. Maitland.

The opposition, considerably smaller than for several sessions in the past, consists of 10 C.C.F. members and one Labor member, Tom Uphill, veteran of more than two decades in the B.C. Legislature as representative of Fernie constituency.

MISSING FACES

Familiar faces to be missing from the Legislature for the first time in many years include former Premier T. D. "Duff" Pattullo, who had represented Prince Rupert constituency consistently from 1916 to 1945; H. G. T. Perry, former Speaker and Minister of Education, who was defeated at the polls in the provincial election, and Dr. K. C. MacDonald, veteran legislator representative of North Okanagan, who was returned Oct. 25, but who died subsequently.

Returning to the House after an absence of four years will be Dr. G. M. Weir, as Minister of Education, and Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., formerly Attorney-General for British Columbia.

Among the government members are several new legislators embarking on careers of provincial politics.

Date of the opening of the Legislature had been delayed by the Dominion-Provincial Conference which is to reconvene in Ottawa Jan. 28.

They arrived in the city Friday with their mother who has been residing in Toronto. Born in Simcoe, Ont., their father was killed in the first Great War. Both plan on remaining in the Air Force.

Iran Asks U.N.O. Investigate Dispute With Soviet Union

LONDON (CP)—Iran appealed to the United Nations' Security Council today to investigate its dispute with the Soviet Union.

Iranian delegate Nasrullah Entezam said his delegation had submitted a letter asking an investigation of what the Iranian delegation contends is "Soviet interference with the internal affairs of Iran."

Entezam said he expected the letter to go immediately to the president of the Security Council, Dr. J. M. Makin of Australia, who probably will call a meeting to consider the issue.

The appeal to the 11-member council was decided upon, Entezam declared, after the Iranian government had failed in direct negotiations with Russia.

Russia is one of the five permanent members of the Security Council and as such could exercise a veto power on any final action.

This is the first international dispute to come before the Security Council.

The Iran-Russian controversy centres on conditions in the northern Iranian province of Azerbaijan in the Russian occupation zone. A self-styled autonomous regime has been established there. The Iranian government has contended the Russian garrison in the province prevented the dispatching of Iranian troops to put down the revolt.

Elsewhere in the Assembly today, the "big power" plan to place the proposed atomic energy commission directly under the Security Council passed its first test without opposition.

The test came when Paul Henri Spaak, president of the General Assembly, called up a committee report providing that the atomic control proposal should go to the Assembly's security committee without discussion on the floor.

President Spaak asked if anyone wanted to say anything, but not a word was spoken. He promptly declared the report accepted.

The security committee of the Assembly is headed by Dmitri Manuilsky, chief Ukrainian delegate.

A committee meeting is expected to be held Monday.

Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand Friday contended that the atomic commission should be under the direction of the 51-nation General Assembly instead of the 11-nation Security Council, but he did not oppose today's move.

President Spaak also sent to a committee on social, humanitarian and cultural problems a British proposal calling on the United Nations to give their full support to the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Calls for Water Test Before Calling Off Chlorination

A request for a "thorough and scientific investigation," including analysis of Victoria's water supply at the source, and as it comes to the consumers, will be made by Ald. Edward Williams at Monday's city council meeting.

Ald. Williams will move a resolution asking that Dr. R. Felton, city medical health officer, and Dr. J. Murray Anderson, director of the Victoria public health services now being organized, be instructed to make the investigation and to "furnish the council with full and exhaustive information on the quality and content of the water, together with their findings on the question of the existence in the water of any elements which are actually, or deemed to be, in any way detrimental to public health."

"The point is," Ald. Williams explained, "that we have not got the information on our water, except what has been alleged by laymen. I don't understand all the implications, and I doubt if a good many others do either. I think we should find out before we make any decisions on so important an issue as the discontinuation of chlorination."

He said that he was anxious to have all particulars as to the possibility of a water-borne epidemic ever being able to touch Victoria before he gave any opinion on chlorination or the need for its continuation.

Ald. Williams declared that one thing which bothered him was the fact that the area was virtually prohibited for hunting and fishing and he wondered if there was a possible source of pollution from the bodies of the animals and fish that died in or about the water sources.

stable Robert Davidson of the city police rushed him to the Jubilee Hospital. Cahoon was caught when he had parked, and another, which police said was driven by Rishem Singh, 743 Market Street.

Kaiser Signs Steel Agreement, Strike Starts Elsewhere

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, west coast steel operator, today accepted President Truman's proposed compromise in the steel wage dispute and signed a contract with the C.I.O. steelworkers.

Mr. Kaiser made the announcement of the contract, giving employees of his west coast plant an 18½-cent hourly increase, after a White House conference with Mr. Truman and C.I.O. President Philip Murray. The plant affected is that at Fortuna, Calif., the only steel plant which Mr. Kaiser operates.

This development came as C.I.O. steelworkers began walking out of mills in the United States in advance of the scheduled general strike set for Sunday midnight after the U.S. Steel Corporation had rejected President Truman's compromise plan.

Mr. Kaiser had already signed with the C.I.O. automobile workers covering employees of the new Kaiser-Fraser automobile plant at Willow Run. This agreement calls for wage increases and bonuses for workers.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fires in the huge blast furnaces in United States steel mills burned slowly today and the last hope of halting a strike of 750,000 C.I.O. steelworkers flickered feebly.

The strike against the country's basic industry officially is scheduled to start at 12:01 a.m., E.S.T. Monday, but already operations are being curtailed and workers laid off in some plants.

Hope of averting the walkout, which if fully effective would be one of the biggest, if not the biggest, in United States history, faded Friday, President Truman's compromise proposal for settling the wage dispute, accepted by C.I.O. President Philip Murray, was rejected by Benjamin F. Fairless, U.S. Steel Corporation president.

Originally scheduled to begin Jan. 14, the strike "must take place," said Mr. Murray, indicating the 750,000 members of the C.I.O. United Steelworkers' Union, which he heads, will remain away from their jobs in 1,300 steel, aluminum and fabricating plants.

There appeared no White House plans to stop the walkout and government seizure of the plants was not contemplated.

The only possible avenue open for averting the scheduled strike was reconsideration of Mr. Truman's wage proposal of 18½ cents an hour by Mr. Fairless.

Mr. Murray, who originally had demanded 23 cents an hour, accepted Mr. Truman's offer, which was 1 cent an hour less than the union's last demand and 3½ cents more than the proposal by Mr. Fairless to the union.

The steelworkers, plus an undetermined number of workers in other industries whose work will be affected by the walkout, will join some 886,000 men and women already idle in scores of United States industries because of labor disputes.

The paralyzing strike of some 263,000 C.I.O. and American Federation of Labor workers in the meat industry continued for the fourth day, while meat supplies across the country became more scarce. Federal conciliators kept on trying to effect an agreement between the unions and packers in their wage dispute, while a fact-finding board was to open public hearings in Chicago, Tuesday.

Allied Advances Balked Nazi Plans For Mass Slavery

NUERNBERG (AP)—Lightning-like Allied advances during the closing stages of the European war disrupted Nazi plans to draft an additional 1,500,000 slave laborers from France and the Low Countries, Jacques Bernard Herzog, assistant French prosecutor, stated at the war crimes trial here today.

M. Herzog said Fritz Sauckel, boss of the forced labor program, planned to bring in 1,000,000 additional men and women from France and 500,000 from the Low Countries to work in Reich industries.

"The rapidity of the Allied victory prevented Sauckel from realizing his plan of mass deportation," M. Herzog said.

"However, he undertook its execution. Deportations of workers were carried out up to the day of liberation of each territory."

M. Herzog submitted a letter from Sauckel to Hitler reporting that the Vichy regime had largely accepted the Nazi labor demands, but that Marshal Petain would not consent to send women to the Reich.

Plane From Comox To Winnipeg Sought

WINNIPEG (CP)—R.C.A.F. officials have launched a search for one of their Dakota planes, missing on a flight from Comox, B.C., to Winnipeg, air force authorities revealed here today. The plane, due to arrive at Winnipeg at 8:11 a.m., C.S.T. today, was last reported over Cranbrook, B.C., at 4:28 a.m. Number of men aboard the missing plane is unknown.

Crime Expert Here For Murder Hearing

Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, Vancouver police criminologist, is expected to testify at the murder charge hearing of Bariam Singh, local Hindu, in City Police Court, Monday morning.

Bariam has been charged with killing 80-year-old Sunda Singh, a fellow countryman, on or about Dec. 26. Sunda's battered and bloody body was found outside the door of his room in a stable, at the rear of 2856 Quesnel Street, on Dec. 27. He had been stabbed in the neck.

It was believed that Inspector Vance made tests of stains on clothing involved in the case. In addition to his testimony, it also was expected that evidence would be given by two New Westminster detectives.

Bariam was arrested in the mainland city about a week after the murdered man's body was found. He had formerly resided in a room next door to the living quarters of the aged victim, and had not been seen there since the Christmas holiday.

Soward Returns to U.B.C.; Read Joins

VANCOUVER—F. R. Soward, professor of history at University of B.C., and now on leave of absence with the Department of External Affairs, will return to the university in September as "director of international studies," it was announced today by President MacKenzie.

This new position was created with a view to co-ordinating the work in international relations and allied fields not covered by other departments, Dr. MacKenzie stated.

Maj. Stanley E. Read, personnel and rehabilitation officer with the Canadian army, has been appointed to the staff of the English department, Maj. Read arrived in Vancouver last week after two and a half years' service overseas. Prior to enlistment Maj. Read was instructing on the staff of the English department of DePaul University, Chicago.

Victorians Bring Home 2 Frigates

Two Victoria officers commanded the frigates Beacon Hill and Antigonish as they arrived in Esquimalt Harbor Friday afternoon.

They were Lt.-Cmdr. H. L. Quinn, R.C.N.V.R., D.S.C., Beacon Hill, and Cmdr. Anthony Storrs, R.C.N.R., D.S.C. and Bar, Antigonish.

The only seamen who were with the Beacon Hill when she was commissioned and arrived back here with her are PO. R. James, Victoria, and CPO. W. Dallin, Abbotsford. There were four other Victorians aboard the Beacon Hill, Shpwt. Victor Booth, PO. Jack Humphries, Chief ERA. Ronald Ledger and ERA. 4/c John Bugslag.

Other Victorians aboard the Antigonish were Wrnt. Eng. T. M. Kellington, CPO. R. S. Bussey, CPO. D. S. Calder, Chief Sto. T. Chandler, Chief ERA. R. W. Fraser, ERA. 4/c J. A. Wood, Sto. PC. C. Hall, ERA. 4/c L. Jackson, Sto. PO. J. Boyle, PO. Tel. J. MacDonald, ERA. 4/c R. Sumner, Sto. PO. J. T. Dunn and ERA. 3/ R. F. Tyler.

Lt.-Cmdr. Quinn joined the Beacon Hill in September, 1945, at Liverpool, N.S., where she was getting a refit for the Pacific war. Numerous delays developed, and the Beaconhill finally left Dec. 23 for Esquimalt.

CHRISTMAS AT SEA

On the way here, Christmas was celebrated at sea, just north of Cuba. The Antigonish carried Padre H. Todd who conducted the church service aboard her. Then he was rowed over to the Beacon Hill where he conducted the second Christmas service of the day. New Year's was spent in Panama City.

Lt.-Cmdr. Quinn was in command of the frigate Strathadam, last to be built at Yarrows Ltd., when she and two others tracked down and destroyed a Schnorkel-equipped Nazi submarine in the North Atlantic. Shortly after, the Strathadam launched an attack on a suspected submarine contact only to suffer a premature explosion aboard which cost the lives of six ratings and injured nine others.

NEON DESIGNER

Lt.-Cmdr. Quinn, who was a designer with Neon products before the war, came to Victoria in 1937. His wife, Isabel, and son, Peter, live in Victoria.

Cmdr. Storrs, who brought home the Antigonish, also built at Yarrows, was for eight years prior to the outbreak of World War II with the China Customs. His first sea experiences he gained aboard sailing ships.

He came from China to Victoria in 1938, he said, going back in 1939 and returning again in 1940 to join up.

He served with corvettes for

Tugmen Welcome Tow Rate Increases

B.C. tugboat owners and operators, endorsing rate increases recently authorized by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, say the changes will help them meet progressively increasing costs.

An immediate general rate increase of 7 1/2 per cent was approved by the board, as well as a change in log towing rates, making effective a minimum charge of 80,000 board feet measure per section of logs towed.

An appeal to the board had been made by the B.C. Towboat Owners' Association, which claimed towboat owners had suffered substantial loss in the last year.

MOUNT VIEW HIGH

Students of Mount View High School are in the midst of the January completion examinations, which started Jan. 17 and continue until Jan. 24.

The radio committee of the combined schools is planning to present a "spelling bee."

Jan. 25, a student-parents' social will be held. There will be dancing, games and refreshments.

R. C. Bowen Heads Mountie Veterans

R. C. Bowen was elected president of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police Veterans' Association, B. Division, Victoria, this week, and G. W. Edgerton, vice-president.

J. Leatham was elected secretary-treasurer; R. E. Mercer, J. Bell and H. E. Wilson, executive committee; A. H. L. Mellor and G. W. Edgerton, sick visiting committee.

A request will be forwarded to headquarters division, Calgary, that tangible recognition similar to that given to members of the armed forces serving in Canada, be granted to special constables and guards on security police work.

Col. G. E. Sanders was selected as proxy delegate to the meeting at headquarters.

Norman Watt Buried

Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell conducted the funeral service for Norman A. Watt, former government agent at Prince Rupert, at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel Friday.

Sergeant Jacklin and Constable Flander represented the B.C. Police, Prince Rupert division. There were delegates from the Canadian Legion. A guard of honor was formed by the B.C. Police. Following were honorary

Gov't Not Likely To Shelve Major Projects to Autumn

Speculation that little legislation would be presented by the government to the B.C. Legislature at the forthcoming spring session, and the bulk of new legislation would be considered by the House at an autumn meeting was discredited at the Parliament Buildings today.

Education Minister G. M. Weir had indicated some time ago that legislation to implement the recommendations of Dr. Max Cameron in his report on education costs was under preparation, and a new scale of payments to the municipalities would be effected as of April 1.

Last week he said the legislation had reached a state in preparation where it was, almost ready for submission to legislative counsel for putting into final shape for presentation to legislators.

Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney, while not indicating to what extent the recommendations of the Sloan commission on forest operations would be carried out, suggested today proposed legislation of his department at the forthcoming session might be quite heavy.

While it is not thought possible that a full-scale revision of the B.C. forest policy would be possible by the spring session of the Legislature because of time limits, it is thought some of the policies suggested by Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan may be incorporated in legislation for presentation to the House this spring.

Date at which the Legislature will convene has not yet been set, although Premier John Hart, on whom the decision rests, indicated before leaving last month for a vacation in Arizona, the House would be called about Feb. 20 or later.

Mr. Hart is planning to go directly from Chandler, Arizona, to Ottawa for the next session of the Dominion-Provincial Conference to open Jan. 28. The B.C. Legislature, which usually meets early in February, will be held up by the conference.

Talk Amalgamated Health Services

Questions of amalgamated health services, first between Victoria and Esquimalt, and secondly between the city and school health departments, occupied the city health committee's discussions yesterday, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman, said, following the meeting.

A further meeting will be held Saturday morning with members of the school board to consider details of the final union of the two services, and also estimates of expenditures for the coming year.

The matter of amalgamation with Esquimalt health services has not been settled yet, Ald. Hunter said, and further discussions would have to take place before there would be any recommendation to place before the city council.

MAIL DEPARTMENT comes in for attention today. Noting the efforts of several organizations to revive Victoria's May 24 celebration, Berkeley Fisher writes suggesting what he calls an international rowathon from Port Angeles to Victoria. For such an event Fisher would use 28-foot whalers with five rowers and coxswain. He would have the boats painted in gay colors with a flag aft. "It would be an endurance test and as these craft can travel at a neat clip it would not take more than four or five hours to make the trip across the straits," Fisher writes. "These boats have braved the Atlantic so there would be no question of their being able to make the crossing and, given the proper fanfare and publicity, I think a rowathon would be good advertising for the city," Fisher concludes.

FROM Ernie Flindell comes a request to settle an argument over the result of a football competition. He asks if Victoria West won the provincial cup last year and if not who did? Wests were beaten 6 to 2 by North Shore United in the final of the provincial cup series on the mainland. On the other hand, the Wests were the first local eleven to reach the final in many years.

WHAT does it take to make a champion? That question is well answered in the latest sports poll announced by Esquire magazine. There have always been certain qualities recognized by those in the sports fraternity that are essential to an athlete if he desires to reach the top in his chosen field. The experts answering the poll voted competitive spirit as the leading factor with physical equipment next in line. Holding down third position was mental aptitude and in fourth spot orthodox technique although the last-named had little support.

FOR AN all-around champion the poll experts unanimously selected Ty Cobb, famous baseball player, mainly because of his undying competitive spirit which is now a legend in sports. Golf fans will be interested to learn that the leading sports editors of Canada and the United States and John G. Fan hold the feats and accomplishments of Bobby Jones in greater respect than the success of Byron Nelson. Jones is the only golfer to have ever won all four major titles in one year. Another interesting point brought in the balloting was the lack of support afforded the leading lights of the basketball court, both past and present, as deserving of championship recognition. Such stars as Hank Luisetti, Whitey Wooden and George Mikan failed to crash the championship circle in any quality.

'Y' Swimmers to Vancouver

McKinnon Names Squad

Coach Archie McKinnon will take a team of 22 Flying 'Y' Club swimmers to Vancouver on Jan. 26 to vie for honors in the dual meet carded for that night against Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club splashers.

The local 'Y' coach is dubious about his club's chances of coping with the aggregate points in the two-club-gala, owing to the fact he cannot have his national champion and record-smashing group out at its fullest strength for competition against the V.A. S.C.

The mainland outfit had the privilege of setting the program. This limits McKinnon to two entries in any one of the 23 events on the program. However, the talent that will wear Victoria colors is the best the coach can throw into this type of meet.

McKinnon notes that Vancouver's chief strength will be in the women's department, but he expects to clean up most of the points in his powerful male sections, senior, junior and juvenile, with emphasis on the showing of the middle group, members of which are present holders of several titles and records on the Dominion front in individual and team events. The final point-count, no matter which team finishes on top, he forecasts as being close.

Victoria will be shooting to improve its already impressive position in the national swim picture. It is also believed the Vancouver club is seeking a Canadian record.

SEEKS ANOTHER RECORD

Peter Salmon, the local junior flash, who is involved in eight of the Canadian championships and records held by the Victoria 'Y', will be one of the performers upon whom officials' eyes will be trained. McKinnon says Salmon will be out to break his own national record in the 150-yard individual junior medley.

Ina Salmon and Dick Bowden will be team captains of the local invading contingent.

Miss Salmon, Joan Morgan, Joan McLagan, Macrina Parker and Leslie Rimmer comprise the senior women McKinnon will choose from to carry Vic. 'Y' colors in the contests in that division. Junior girl participants in the gala will be Aileen Smyth, Dick Bowden, whose performance as a junior contributed largely to establish the Flying 'Y' club's present-day enviable record, has vacated the junior ranks. Age has hoisted him into the senior bracket and in competitions in that class he will be seen in action with Len Coverdale, Ron Nelson, Bob Montgomery, Jack Todd and Ken Hurn.

Making up the junior boys' team for the invasion will be Rod Nixon, Salmon, Eric Jubb, Don Smyth and Jack Creedon, while Bill Patey, Ray Jubb and Barry Caviness compose the juvenile squad of the under 13 age group. At this date McKinnon has not decided on his juvenile girl representatives for the meet. He is sifting up available material now to decide two swimmers for the three events in this class.

McKinnon announced that Rod Nixon, among the best of the juniors, will have to go senior after the Vancouver program, as he will have reached his 17th birthday. To fill the shoes of Bowden and Nixon in the junior division, the coach has brought up two promising juveniles, E. Jubb and Creedon.

McKinnon believes that Vancouver's Irene Strong will be seeking the junior girls' Canadian 150-yard individual medley record. He visualizes stiff competition for Bowden in his first start with the seniors with William, Vancouver top-ranker, opposing him.

Miles Dighton Wins Swimming Trophy

The Victoria Amateur Swimming Club's eight-week freestyle handicap series came to a close Friday night at the Crystal Garden pool with Miles Dighton declared the winner with an aggregate point-count of 29. He won the George B. Murdie Trophy, symbolic of the honors.

Close behind him with but a single point separating them was Bill Doddridge with 28 points, while Jack Wellburn placed third with a 23.

A new series of backstroke handicap events with the Norman Hill Trophy at stake will get under way early in February, it was announced by V.A.S.C. coach Jim McCague.

McCague is due for discharge from the army shortly and will swing into program to build the V.A.S.C. club up to its pre-war strength to give coach Archie McKinnon's Flying 'Y' Club a good brand of competition. It is understood the club has a good supply of material available.

The weekly swimming schedule is: Seniors, Friday evenings from 7 to 8; juveniles and juniors, Thursday afternoons from 3.30 to 5.

Mrs. K. Richardson, who in the earlier years of the swim sport here held the Canadian championship in the junior freestyle event as Kathie Wellburn, is in charge of the juveniles.

Angling and Hunting

By "CAP" THORSEN

Labeled the worst season on local record, the curtain will be rung down on the 1945-46 open season on ducks on the island Jan. 27, not the last day of the month as many hunters understand the regulations to read.

After the season closes on ducks, the only legal targets left to local hunters will be brant and snow geese—two types of waterfowl nirruds in this area rarely if ever get their sights lined on. Snow geese are an exceedingly scarce article in this sector and brant do not usually show up until after the season closes, which is Feb. 28 for both.

Cecil Heaton, the well-known entertainer on the piano, can tell you of Qualicum scenes with the beaches literally covered with brant—but here's the catch, after the season's close. In all branches of hunting circles in the province is the cry for a brant season extending to the limit of March 10, the extreme allowed by the Canada-U.S. Migratory Birds Treaty. Commissioner Jim Cunningham of the B.C. Game Department expressed himself before local sportsmen as all for a season extension for the province because of the low kill of the birds in comparison to the large number that appear on the provincial front.

WINTER SPRINGS

News of a good run of winter spring salmon off Fulford Harbor, Salt Spring Island, reached the column this week. Capt. G. S. Harris of the Marine Chet is one of the Victoria anglers who has had considerable success in these waters using a No. 6 Wonder 50-50 spoon, four ounces of weight and about 300 feet of cuddyhunk line. J. L. Mara is another who has been fishing for the tasty members of the winter run. He recently took a 25-pounder.

Although it rained all day Wednesday on Saanich Inlet waters several hostesses of anglers tried their luck with the grise. The result was an almost unanimous skunking. The foursome of Elbeck Wilson, Tiny Richards, Jim Vesey and Ollie Corbett scored what is believed to be the poor high of the day, four. George Robinson and Bill Archer found the fish stubbornly refusing to take their offerings, as did Jack Harris, still suffering from a bad leg in navy action in World War II, and his father.

However, this does not mean that Saanich Inlet's winter grise run has departed. All through this winter season—a season that is unique in Canadian tidal sport fishing—the angling has been "on today" and "off tomorrow." Latest reports say the fish are still around in good numbers.

Weather continues against wheelheading in the Cowichan River this winter. Clear and nippy weather is needed as the flow is still running high.

SKET-TRAP SHOOT TOMORROW

Clarence Goepel, secretary of the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club on Albert Head Road, telephoned to announce that the club will resume its shoots tomorrow afternoon, starting at noon. Intending participants are advised. A general meeting of the club to shape its 1946 program will be held shortly.

Legion Cagers Win Thriller to Tie for First

Canadian Legion hoopers moved into the top place along side Black and White Taxi quintette in the senior 'B' men's race Friday night by virtue of their 33 to 31 victory over Brentwood Aces in an action-crammed engagement.

Legionaires are slated to engage Eagles in their last league struggle tonight at 7.30 at Victoria High School gym in the preliminary of the Domino Navalairs intercity feature. A victory for Legion will give them league honors, but the four top teams will battle it out in a play-off for the city title.

Intermediate 'B' boys tussles saw Eagles retain their undefeated record to win the league honors by posting a 30 to 19 decision over Chinese Students and K.V.'s in second place, take a 28 to 20 verdict over St. Louis College.

The feature between Legion and Aces saw the former on the short end of the score at half-time. They rallied the third session, scoring 15 points for a 29 to 25 lead. The rugged, bitterly fought game got plenty warm in the final quarter. Aces put on a spurt right from the centre toss-up and successful field attempts at the basket by Yardley and Turner locked the score in a tie, 29 to 29.

HALL'S POINTS WIN

It was at this point that Leon Hall copped the spotlight when he rang up a basket and two foul shots to give Legion their two-point margin at the final whistle.

The two games in the intermediate 'B' boys' class completed the league schedule in that department, and while officials have not come through with the winning individual scorer as yet, an unofficial accounting shows Cranston Brown of the Eagle quintette with 64, taking the laurels by a single point. Eagles' Red McMillan and K.V.'s Rex Weaver have 63 apiece for a second-place deadlock.

There will be a three-team playoff for the city title in this division. Eagles will be one, K.V.'s another and there may be another game between Chinese Students and St. Louis College to decide who will meet K.V.'s in the semifinal, Eagles getting a bye for the final. According to league secretary Ivan Temple, however, Chinese may be barred owing to their failure to produce birth certificates.

Only able to put five men on the floor, Eagles, undefeated, nevertheless stayed in front all the way in their game with the Chinese. The K.V.-St. Louis game saw the eventual winners start badly but pick up form before long to forge to the front and stay there.

Kennel Club Will Hold Parlor Show

Victoria City Kennel Club will hold a parlor show at the Crystal Garden Wednesday evening, Feb. 6. The event is being sponsored by the Junior V.O.N. For the last six years this organization has realized a tidy sum as a result of this dog exhibit.

Classes will be provided for all breeds of purebred dogs from three months of age upwards. A dog does not have to have a pedigree to compete. Special classes will be provided for novice and green dogs as well as for children handlers.

It is hoped to obtain the services of a well-known mainland judge. Full classification and prize list will be announced later. Further information be obtained by telephoning E2536.

Penna Uncorks Brilliant 65 To Grab Richmond Golf Lead

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Racking up a sensational six under par 65, Toney Penna, smiling little professional from Dayton, Ohio, swept into the lead at the half-way mark Friday of the 72-hole Richmond open golf tournament. He carded 33-32 over the 36-35-71 course, giving him a 36-hole total of 134.

The outstanding performance projected him from a second place tie into a three-stroke lead over the next man, amateur Charles Stohand, Ponca City, Okla., who posted a two-round 137. Jimmy Hines, Chicago, carded a two-round 138 for third place. Hines shot his second consecutive 69.

The score was the lowest here in two days, and was only a stroke off the competitive course record of 64, established last year by Harold McSpaden, Sanford, Me.

Injury Wave Strikes Major Hockey Squads

With the National Hockey League standings split into two such distinct divisions that contenders for the four play-off positions can practically be taken for granted, fan interest concentrated today on the four-way fight for leadership.

The second-division clubs, Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers, haven't given up the struggle to overtake the pace-makers but the 10-point margin separating Leafs from the fourth-place Detroit Red Wings makes such a comeback by the cellar teams a remote possibility. Rangers are three points behind Leafs.

In contrast to the gulf between the two divisions, only two points separate the first four teams. Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens are tied for the lead, one point ahead of Boston which has a similar edge on Detroit.

Clarification of the leadership duel may be effected in a five-game week-end program which matches Boston and Canadiens in a home-and-home series starting in Montreal Saturday. The other two leading clubs play only one game apiece, Chicago entertaining Rangers Sunday while Detroit is at home to Toronto.

The fifth week-end game sends Rangers to Toronto. All clubs except Detroit Red Wings have been severely affected by a recent wave of injuries. Hardest hit this week is Chicago, who announced yesterday that George Allen will be out of the line-up for a month because of an ankle fracture suffered against Montreal Wednesday.

Either Wingy Johnston or Andy Chakowski will be recalled from Kansas City of the United States League to replace Allen, who has been used at defence and wing. It was announced earlier that Leo Reise, 22-year-old defenceman, had been recalled from Kansas City to replace injured Eddie Wares.

The Hawks also will be without star winger Bill Mosienko, injured Dec. 30.

The "automatic scorer" who last played at Washington State three years ago will start a 30-day furlough Monday, Friel said, and "indications" that the recent war department directives covering his discharge will permit his release from the army by Feb. 20.

Louis Has Gone Through Earnings Totalling $2,400,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Mystery of what happened to all the money Joe Louis has made in the prize ring is no mystery at all, insists promoter Mike Jacobs, who should know—Joe simply spent the dough.

"I've seen some pretty fast men with a dollar in my time," Mike reminisced Friday, "but there's the champ. What he doesn't manage to spend he gives away. For a man who doesn't even drink, he's a wonder."

The topic arose, as it frequently has lately, over the fact that Louis, whose fights have beaten out total earnings of nearly $2,400,000 in the last 10 years, is forced at this stage to roam the provinces with a dance band to pick up a little ready cash.

The picture that Mike quoted to give of the big, quiet negro's spending qualifications seemed incongruous to those who had seen Joe during his ring career. Joe has looked less like a good time Charlie than almost any fighter you could name. "There's a lot you don't know about that fellow," Jacobs grinned. "In the first place, of course, he hasn't actually made as much money as you think. By the time his purses were cut up he made less than $1,000,000 for himself, and Uncle Sam took a big slice of that. He still owes the government about $79,000, I think."

"But what he did get his hands on he spent. Joe knows how to have a good time. He's the greatest guy for picking up a check I ever saw, and he's a sucker for a touch. He hands it out $500, $1,000 at a clip. And he has to pay taxes on his touches. "Know how much he spent the three years he was in the army? One hundred grand—that I know of."

City Button Golf

White Cane Signal For Friendly Help In Busy Traffic

Since the early days of man on earth, blindness through accident or illness has been a misfortune. With the advent of congested and fast moving motor traffic in modern cities and towns the problems of the blind pedestrian, especially when without an escort, have been multiplied. Gradually during the past 30 years the movement originating in Wales has spread throughout parts of Europe and the North American continent to promote the use of the white cane as a symbol of blindness. Usually the cane is all white, or sometimes white with a red or black tip.

When used by a blind person it becomes a silent appeal for friendly assistance in crossing a busy street or highway, or in regaining a sense of direction which has been temporarily lost by reason of snow or other change, covering or disturbing familiar landmarks.

The white cane also has a special significance for the motorist. To him, it is a signal that the user is blind and that any courtesy shown will relieve anxiety and merit gratitude.

If every pedestrian and motorist enjoying the blessings of sight would pause for a moment to realize the full effect of timely and friendly aid or courtesy to the blind citizen carrying his white cane on our busy streets, there can be no doubt but that prompt recognition of the white cane symbol and heartfelt satisfaction by both the blind and their sighted friends, would result.

The use of the white cane by the blind is sponsored by the Inter-Provincial Council of the Blind and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Victorian Heads B.C. Historical Group

The B.C. Historical Association, in convention here Friday for its annual meeting and election of officers, named Miss Madge Wolfenden, employee of the provincial library, as its president.

Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward was elected patron; Education Minister G. M. Weir, honorary president; E. G. Baynes, Vancouver, first vice-president; Maj. H. C. Holmes, second vice-president; W. E. Ireland, provincial archivist, honorary secretary, and Mrs. M. R. Cree, employee of the provincial library, honorary treasurer.

Miss Helen R. Boutlier, retiring president, addressed the convention on early days in Vancouver, which this year celebrates its 60th anniversary of founding.

Following the meeting the provincial officers and the Victoria executive were entertained at the Union Club by Maj. Holmes, who is president of the Victoria branch of the association, and Mrs. Curtis Sampson.

Back In Civvies

R. R. HUDSON
Veteran of almost three years with the navy, E.A. R. R. Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hudson, 231 Oswego Street, has purchased Hamilton Electric, at Port Alberni, with Ken Walsh of that city. Mr. Hudson served aboard the St. Laurent for two years, receiving his discharge last month. Twenty-one years of age, he is a graduate of South Park and Victoria High School. The firm will be known as Port Automotive Electric Service.

PHIL SCHULZ
One of the few "B" Company men of the Seaford Highlanders of Canada who have survived the long front line fight of the unit from the beaches of Sicily to the northwest Europe theatre, Cpl. Phil Schulz is now discharged, and employed at the James Island powder works. He joined the army in mid-1940 with the Canadian Scottish, went overseas in September, 1942, was transferred to the Seafords in May, 1943. He is living with his wife and child at Sidney.

TOMMY BANISTER
With the pipe bands of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish and Seaford Highlanders overseas, Piper Tommy Banister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Banister, 2950 Orillia Street, has been discharged and has joined the Victoria City Police. The popular local piper enlisted at the outbreak of war with the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish, was transferred to the Seafords in May, 1943. He is living with his wife and child at Sidney.

Protest Removal of Boulevard Trees

The Local Council of Women has written the City Council protesting the removal of large boulevard trees from entire blocks and their replanting with "very young flower trees which will take years to grow to any size."

The organization stated that it had always upheld the avowed policy of removing alternate trees of large growth or where roots were interfering with drains.

However, the letter claimed, the result of taking out all the large trees is "that unsightly telephone poles are the most arresting feature of the streets; and untidy lots, which are too often dumping grounds for refuse are now in full view. Where alternate trees of larger growth are allowed to remain, this unsightliness is partially concealed."

The nervousness of residents on dark streets is understandable the letter continued, "but drastic removal of all trees, rather than alternate ones, would not be necessary if there were adequate lighting."

Every effort, it was contended, "should be made to retain whatever gives dignity and beauty to the city streets."

Victorian on Crusader

One Victoria man who will be aboard H.M.C.S. Crusader when the new R.C.N. destroyer arrives at Esquimalt Tuesday is C.E.R.A. Edmund D. Ironside. His wife and two children reside at 3010 Quadra Street.

C.E.R.A. Ironside, formerly employed by the Hudson's Bay Company, joined the R.C.N. in June, 1940. He was a crew member of H.M.C.S. Prince Robert, and was in action in the Atlantic and the Mediterranean. He intends to remain in the navy.

Rev. Orville P. Hossie, chaplain, R.C.N., recently appointed chaplain of H.M.C.S. Uganda will take services at First United Church Sunday. Mr. Hossie is well known, particularly for his work among young people of the United Church in Victoria.

Adventists Raise $24,000 for Work

The sum of $19,181 was raised for local conference and foreign mission enterprises and $5,166 for local funds, R. E. Robinson, treasurer, reported at the annual business meeting of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, Wednesday.

Church officers who had previously been elected for the 1946 term were as follows:

J. M. A. LeMarquand and H. P. Parker, elders; J. H. Smith, senior deacon; Mrs. J. M. A. LeMarquand, senior deaconess; C. Buckle, clerk; R. E. Robinson, treasurer; Iris Roberts, organist; Mrs. L. G. Gurney, superintendent of Sabbath school; Mrs. J. H. Smith, leader of the Dorcas Society; Miss H. M. Johnson, Young People's Society, and S. L. Jewkes, home and school association.

G. Irwin, secretary of the Sabbath school, told members that one of the school's goals was the enrollment of every church member and child in its fold. Mr. Purdy reported for the home missionary society and said that a good proportion of the membership, both young and old, were active in ministering to others.

Mrs. F. White reported an active year for the Dorcas Society and Miss M. Edwards told of the work of the Young People's Society. Miss H. Gustavsen, teacher at the day school, reported on the work for the year. C. Buckle, clerk, gave a report of church membership.

Mr. LeMarquand was in the chair.

More P.T. for Saanich Students

A more intensive program in physical education is to be carried on in Saanich schools during the new term, reports J. Gough, municipal inspector of schools, with the appointment of Archie W. Murphy as assistant to James Morrison, who is now directing the physical education program.

Mr. Murphy, who will devote his attention chiefly to the outer schools, has returned to the Saanich teaching staff after five and one-half years in the air force. Prior to enlisting he taught at West Saanich, Cedar Hill, Strawberry Vale and Tillamook schools. He has taken a number of summer courses in physical education.

The house system, introduced last fall into most schools by Mr. Morrison to provide a program of activities for all children, is proving successful. Every physically fit child is being encouraged to participate in games and athletics. Rules of good sportsmanship is being instilled, with the result that pupil behaviour during league games is showing improvement.

A handicap system is being inaugurated to help smaller schools in the inter-school leagues, which are being keenly contested. Tillamook and Cloverdale are first and second in the boys' soccer league, while McKendzie Avenue is a close competitor of Tillamook for top place in the girls' basketball contest.

New features planned for the spring term included a marble competition, based on regulations of the U.S.A. national tournament, and a mass display of pupils doing physical education activities.

Another Story of Deliverance

Scripture: Exodus, Chapters 6-18, especially 6:6-8; 13:17-22

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

THESE is always something thrilling about stories of deliverance. Today, despite much agony, deliverance has been coming to ravaged lands and sorely stricken peoples. But there is mourning for the millions who have perished, for whom deliverance was too late; and there ought to be in all our hearts a deep place of sympathy and helplessness for the Jewish people who have borne, with the Chinese and the Poles, the heaviest burden of the world's tragedy.

For these, too, no Moses has arisen. With doors closed against them by immigration laws, the less fortunate refugees have not even a wilderness to wander in, or the hope of a Promised Land. Here, my friends, are tragic things that ought to be upon the world's conscience, and especially upon the conscience of all who value what Jews have given to the world—the Bible, and the Christ, with His message of love and brotherhood.

From this modern tragedy we turn to that ancient story, which the devout of Israel have immortalized in the Feast of the Passover, a solemn but joyful feast that has become a feast of sorrow. The plight of the people in Egypt after Joseph's death is set before us with a vividness that makes the blood run cold, though the oppression and suffering was of long ago. But from the dark scene arises a great and courageous leader, devoted to his people and their deliverance.

The babe cast upon the waters by his mother, in the little basket of bulrushes, rescued and adopted by Pharaoh's daughter, had grown to manhood. The palace offered him security, luxury, wealth and power. No doubt it offered him, too, the affection of the kindly princess, his foster mother. But he was a Jew at heart. He saw the suffering of his people. He knew that he belonged to them and not to the palace.

As the writer of Hebrews puts it (Hebrews 11:24), "By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. The writer adds much to that simple statement, but his words are striking. It would have been sin, he suggests, if Moses had taken the ease and personal preference that the palace offered, instead of championing the cause of his people.

Moses was a great liberator and deliverer; and every one of us today has a chance to follow in his footsteps. We cannot lead
